

SCHACK has been appointed agent for MAUSER in Scandinavia

Copenhagen, 12th of July 2010. Schack has announced today that it has been appointed the new MAUSER agent in Scandinavia. By concluding this agreement, SCHACK will further extend its position in Scandinavia, as one of the key suppliers of industrial packaging.

Customers in Scandinavia can look forward to a reliable supply of IBCs, metal and plastic drums, fibre drums and plastic containers, offering solid quality, competitive prices and a wide range of design options and accessories.

"We are looking forward to offering the whole MAUSER range of products to our customers and expect substantial synergy effects for all parties involved," adds Martin Schack Staffeldt, owner of SCHACK.

"We intend to become an even stronger player in the Scandinavian market, and we want to become the top 3 value added partner, on all markets we operate in.

SCHACK will continue to offer the products and service of NCG Europe, a reconditioning subsidiary of MAUSER, and expect a continuous positive growth in 2010 in an expanding market. "The success of NCG in Scandinavia is based on on-time delivery and value added services, and with a strong partner as MAUSER, customers see the benefits of a well functioning recollect system, service and responsible care, as key factors we are able to offer" he says.

About SCHACK:

Schack was founded in 1999, and is today a leading supplier in Scandinavia of industrial packaging, offering a wide range of plastic packaging and IBCs. With more than 20 years of experience in the packaging industry, SCHACK has the know-how and expertise to ensure that packaging is delivered to the highest possible standards.

Schack has successfully implemented the NCG reconditioning business in Scandinavia, offering value added services within the secondary market of rigid packaging.

The company represents several major international packaging manufacturers, and the products are sold throughout Scandinavia and Great Britain.
